PASSHE Policy 1986-04-A: Program Review:

Periodic program review is a best practice in American higher education that involves stakeholders in the continuous improvement of existing academic programs and programs in support of the student experience.

PASSHE Policy 1986-04-A: Program Review:

Such review includes an analysis of past performance that is used to inform present and future directions and decision-making.

PASSHE Policy 1986-04-A: Program Review:

The review process should be integrated with strategic-planning and budgeting processes, with regional and specialized accreditation processes, and with student-learning outcomes assessment.

Academic Programs:

All programs defined in Board of Governor's Policy 1985-01-A: This includes all academic majors and concentrations.

Programs in Support of the Student Experience:

A broad network of programs and services that directly contributes to students' educational experience and fosters student success.

Examples of such programs may include the library, student life, and enrollment services, public safety, judicial affairs, financial aid, counseling, athletics, residence life, Greek life, student union and student activities, health and wellness programs, career services, academic support services, diversity and inclusion programs, tutoring, advising, and disability services.

Academic Program Review (Non-Accredited programs):

All university programs not subject to specialized accreditation shall be evaluated at least once every five years.

At least once every 10 years, each program not subject to specialized accreditation may include a review by an appropriate external evaluator.

Academic Program Review (Accredited Programs)

Academic programs subject to specialized accreditation review cycles are determined by initial accreditation or reaffirmation cycles (e.g., 6, 7, 8, 10 years) of their program accreditation agencies.

Program Reviews in Support of the Student Experience:

Review criteria for programs in support of the student experience will be determined by the individual university. These criteria shall support the university continuous improvement efforts and Middle States accreditation requirements (e.g., Council Advanced Standards – CAS for Student Affairs and LibQUAL for the Library)
